

Supplementary Figure 3. Odds ratios of suicide attempts in current smoker, as compared to lifetime non-smoker, combined and each year results. There was no difference of suicide attempts in male. Suicide attempt rate in female current smokers was consistently higher than female lifetime non-smoker in respective year from 2008 to 2012. p values were adjusted by age, income, level of education and marital status.